

Grants Supporting Printing and Publication for papers in the areas of gender & queer studies, advanced feminism or diversity studies

To increase scientific output the Institute for Equality and Gender Studies supports publications of members of the Mozarteum University Salzburg, especially young researchers.

Grants providing financial support for printing and publication costs, open access fees, etc. are available for publications that correspond to the understanding of scientific/artistic research/debate in the fields of gender & queer studies, advanced feminism or diversity studies as follows:

- One's own artistic and/or academic practice is understood as research in a defined research context,
 - theoretical and terminological concepts are reflected against the background of structural and historical change,
 - the research questions dealt with are contoured from a critique of normativity and/or recognise intersectional contexts,
- and at the same time
- construction, deconstruction and reconstruction of aspects of identification (gender, desire, race, class, religion/worldview, age, disability, etc.) in visual, scenic, performative, music-related and/or pedagogical forms/artistic processes are analysed,
- and/or
- gender-specific power and domination relations, gender roles, forms of desire, etc. are reflected.

Funding up to 1.000 € is available. In exceptional cases, this sum can be surpassed.

APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS

- Current enrolment and/or employment at the Mozarteum University Salzburg.
- After publication, a sample copy of the published text in PDF format, including a note of funding¹, must be submitted to the Institute for Equality and Gender Studies at the Mozarteum University Salzburg.

Please note: The publication of a bachelor's, master's and/or diploma thesis is NOT eligible for funding.

APPLICATION DOCUMENTS

- 1) Completed form (enclosed).
- 2) Abstract of the publication and/or brief description and table of contents.
- 3) Final version of the text intended for publication (PDF format).
- 4) Confirmation of publication from a publisher/open access platform, etc.

All application papers (in German or English) must be sent via e-mail to iggs@moz.ac.at. Applications will be accepted on a rolling basis throughout the year. Support available on a first-come-first-serve basis. In the case of a grant, applicants will be informed in written form.
